

Sotirios I. Micheloudakis

19 Xanthoudidou str., 74131 Rethimnon - Crete, Greece

Tel.: 00306932291870, Mail: Micheloudakis@uoc.gr, Sotiris.greece@gmail.com

Sotiris Micheloudakis was born in Rethymno and studied in Thessaloniki. He is a graduate of the Department of Law (Law School) and the Department of Social Theology and Christian Culture (Theology School) of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece. He is also a graduate of the Postgraduate Program in the History, Philosophy and Sociology of Law (Law School) of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, as well as a graduate of the Specialization Program in Counseling & Vocational Guidance [P.E.S.Y.P.] of the Higher School of Pedagogical & Technological Education [ASPATE]. He has been awarded a Doctorate from the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (School of Theology), where he has also conducted relevant post-doctoral research. He holds a certification as an Adult Educator in Non-Formal Education [Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports GI/20082/2012, Government Gazette B 844/2012] (National Organization for the Certification of Qualifications - Vocational Guidance). He has served (2007 – 2014) as a laboratory and scientific associate at the Pedagogy Laboratory of the Department of Pastoral and Social Theology (School of Theology) of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, while he has also participated in a series of European Research Programs (EPEAEK & NSRF) during the period of 2005 - 2015. His general writing activity is in the fields of law, sociology and theology. He has taught for a number of years (2004 – 2022) in tertiary, post-secondary and secondary education, while since 2022 he has been a member of the Laboratory Teaching Staff (EDIP) of the Department of Sociology of the University of Crete.